

A menagerie of sock creatures: The ultimate guide to telling them apart

Jumper monkeys

Made from old jumpers. Matted wool is good! Fleece works.

Sock monkeys

Made from a pair of old socks, usually matching, usually calf high.

Sock rabbit

This little cutie is made from a baby sock. Its body is filled with rice.

We follow a set pattern for the Jumper Monkey and Sock Monkey, but imaginations run riotous for the sock monsters, as seen posing below.

Sock monsters

One or two socks, maybe a glove, sometimes some wool. Most shapes of sock can find a new life here!

Quite frankly, we have no idea what this guy to the left is. Any suggestions welcome!
